PRESS RELEASE

For immediate release.....August 17, 2011

Management Change at Prairie West Terminal Ltd.

The Board of Directors of Prairie West Terminal Ltd. (PWT) announced today that Andrew Travers has terminated his contract as Chief Executive Officer of Prairie West Terminal Ltd to peruse a personal business opportunity outside the agriculture industry.

The Board of Directors accepted the termination of contract and immediately formed a committee of the Board to conduct the search for a new CEO. That committee has also engaged a human resources consultant to assist in the search for the new CEO.

Mr. Travers will continue as CEO of PWT until no later October 31,, 2011. In the event a replacement CEO is not appointed prior to Mr. Travers' departure from PWT, Charlene Bradley will act as interim CEO. Ms. Bradley has acted as CFO of PWT for the past 8 years.

Prairie West Terminal is locally owned and operated grain company, with its head office located between the villages of Dodslan and Plenty, Saskatchewan. Prairie West Terminal operates locations in Plenty, Dodslan, Luseland and Kindersley.
